USDB History

The USDB is Located at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. It is the only maximum security prison in the Department of Defense. Operation began in May 1875, making the facility the oldest penal institution in the Federal system maintaining continual operation.

Our Mission

Our mission is to provide training and rehabilitation to inmates incarcerated at the United States Disciplinary Barracks.

The USDB fund offers military inmates the opportunity to learn a variety of trades which include embroidery, graphic arts, hydroponics, textile repair, wood working, barbering, as well as becoming a skilled welder.

Inmates are given the opportunity to create both custom and stock products.

This gives Active Duty Soldiers, Family Members, Retirees, and the DOD civilian workforce an overall retail savings of up to 75% on products crafted within the programs.
